Summary:

Graduate of George Mason University (December 2024) with a degree in Theater and a minor in Social Justice and Human Rights. I have a passion for teaching and community outreach initiatives that go beyond the classroom. I'm eager to leverage my broad range of skills in theater, film, communication, and stage design management to help students discover their potential, build confidence, and achieve academic success. By incorporating lesson plans that foster real-life qualities such as improved academic performance, public speaking skills, and confidence, I hope to help students in all aspects of life, in high school and beyond.
